SECOND STATE OFFICER COMING

Engineer Messer Will Assist Dr. Waddell in Typhoid Research.

REPORT READY TODAY

Will Recommend Filtration Plant and Sanitary Officer—No New Cases or Deaths Reported Today.

So serious has become the alarm in Alexandria over the typhoid fever epidemic which is raging in this city, that immediate steps will be taken to endeavor to stamp out the disease. Officers of the city government, the State Board of Health, the physicians of the city and officers of the Alexandria Water Co., which furnishes the city with its water supply, will join in a campaign that will mean the elimination of the fever.

In addition to Dr. J. A. Waddell, of the Virginia State Health Board, who is making a study of the situation, the State Health Board will send their sanitary engineer, Richard Messer, of Richmond, to this city, to assist Dr. Waddell in his investigations. Mr. Messer will reach Alexandria tomorrow morning and will be detained to make an inspection of the water supply and present further recommendations that will insure the purification of the water that now reaches the city from Cameron Run. In the meanwhile the health officers are not taking any chances and strict orders have been issued forbidding the use of the city water for drinking purposes unless it is boiled.

Dr. Waddell, who has been in the city since Friday, has practically completed his report, which will be sent to the State Board of Health tonight. A copy will be furnished to Dr. E. A. Gorman, city health officer, and it is expected that the latter will ask the presiding officers of both bodies of City Council to hold a special meeting to consider the report and take steps to have Dr. Waddell's recommendations carried out.

Among the recommendations that Dr. Waddell will make is that a filtration and chlorine sterilization plant be established at the reservoir of the Alexandria Water Co. This he thinks as absolutely necessary because of the presence of intestinal germs in the water. An examination of the water has just been made by Dr. James Freeman, State bacteriologist. Two samples were sent, one from a low pressure main in the First Ward and the other from a high pressure main in the Fourth Ward. In the former intestinal bacteria were found in as small a quantity as one cubic centimeter (15) drops of water, which is regarded as highly dangerous. In the latter the bacteria were found in quantities of water as small as ten centimeters. While Dr. Waddell does not go so far as to say that the water supply is to blame for the epidemic, he states that the presence of the bacteria makes one highly suspicious that the water may be one of the principal contributing reasons for the large number of cases.

The presence of the bacteria in the water is easily accounted for by Dr. Waddell, who says that it is to be expected when the supply is received from a water shed that is so thickly populated as in the case of the Cameron Run shed. The presence of a large number of laborers, who are at work on the Barcroft Dam, where the water company is building a new reservoir, may also have something to do with the presence of the bacteria in the water. Two cases of typhoid were recently removed from the obstruction camp at the dam.

Dr. Waddell will strongly recommend the appointment of a permanent sanitary officer to be under the immediate direction of the city health officer. He finds the sanitary conditions of the city in bad shape. Sewers are stopped up and should be regularly flushed, outdoor privies are in bad condition and are not properly screened against flies and allies and backyards need cleaning. He refers to one alley in the vicinity of King and Henry streets, where a number of cases of typhoid have developed nearby, as being in a most disgraceful condition.

No new cases of typhoid have been reported to the health officer today, but Dr. Waddell expects that there will be a number of new cases develop within the next few days. As soon as he completes his work here he will make an inspection of the suburbs of the city.

CONFIDENT FRENCH TROOPS LEAVING PARIS.

A French regiment, singing the Marseillaise and full of confidence, marching through the streets of Paris to entrain for the German frontier.

Everywhere the soldiers were loudly cheered as they passsd through the city. The whole French nation is back of them. Internal politics for the moment are forgotten in the face of danger from theGermans.

This time the French army is better equipped, better trained, and has more fighting spirit than the army of Napoleon III. in 1870. Gen. Joffre, the commander in chief of the army, is an experienced warrior, having fought in the Franco-Prussian War d served as a soldier for France ever since.

GIRLS OF THE MOULIN ROUGE

This week Mr. Joe Hurtig presents the sparkling Parisian satire, "Girls of the Moulin Rouge," at the Gayety Theatre in Washington and two large audiences were on hand yesterday to witness the presentation. The consensus of opinion, judged by the comment heard throughout the house, is that Mr. Hurtig has collected together a very classy and capable bunch of girls, even though they may never have seen the Moulin Rouge. Be that as it may, the chorus of this show is some chorus, Joe has played no favorities in assembling the bunch. There are fat ones and lean ones, blondes and brunettes, tall and short ones. And the dancers didn't shirk their encores, but came right out and danced some more. The costumes are beautiful and add much to the attractiveness of the show. There is nothing very deep about the plot, as it is intended merely as an excuse for introducing the performers. The action of the piece contains nothing more exciting than the receipt of a few cablegrams at the proper moments. Also there are several very tuneful song numbers, which are rendered by the principals. But Mr. Hurtig has made no mistake in the selection of his chorus

PARENTS WARNED OF LABOR LAWS

Children Must be of Proper Age to Sell Newspapers in State.

TO BE NO EXCEPTIONS

State Commissioner Announces Purpose to Enforce the Law to the Letter in the Future.

Richmond, August 26.—The State Department of Labor is giving some attention to parents who permit children under the legal minnum age to trudge through the streets at all hours of the day and night selling newspapers. Many such cases have been reported by agents of the department to Commissioner James B. Doherty, and the commissioner has himself noted boys of tender ages earning for able-bodied fathers a few dimes a day, regardless of the laws which prescribe the maximum number of hours that strong men may be employed and the statutes framed for the protection of the health and morals of children.

Realizing that in some cases that have been reported there are mitigating circumstances, Commissioner Doherty has not to this time authorized prosecutions. He decided yesterday, however, to take some action to check the practice, which is in violation of the State laws, and notified the parents of some of the tiny newsboys that further violations of the laws will not be permitted. The attention of the parents was directed by the commissioner to section 5 of the child labor law, which reads as follows:

"No boy under ten years of age and no girl under sixteen years of age shall, in any city of this State of 5,000 population or more, distribute, sell, expose, or offer for sale, newspapers, magazines, or other periodicals in any street or public place."

The commissioner made it plain while serving the notices that he did not intend to make a practice of reminding violators of the child labor law of what they were doing before proceeding against them. He is determined to enforce the law applying to children of immature age who are sent into the streets by their parents to peddle from directing immediate prosecutions largely because he was aware of the inability of the parents of the baby newsboys to pay the fine a conviction in court would entail. The penalty prescribed is a fine of newspapers just as aggressively as he is proceeding against child labor in manufacturing establishments. He said he was restrained

"LIFE'S CROSS ROADS."

This is a remarkably interesting film, showing the vicissitudes of life in a strikingly touching and sympathetic manner. In it the tragedy that results from one wife's extravagance is charmingly counterbalanced by the happiness brought by another wife's love.

The story opens with Anna Heath, a beautiful and good-hearted girl, employed by a bank as a stenographer.

The cashier, David Evans, is in love with Anna, but she does not reciprocate, and failing to win her puts him in an ugly mood. His resentment is further strengthened by a romantic incident. The banker's sons, Edward and Robert Livingston, visit their father's office and are introduced to Anna. The cashier, his wits sharpened by jealousy, notes that Anna and Robert show plainly the fact that they have fallen in love with each other at first sight. As a result, Evans decides to rob the bank and go far away.

It so happens that on the evening which he selects for the robbery Anna works later than usual. As she starts for home she is intercepted by Evans, who tries to embrace her. She struggles for freedom, drops her bag, and hastily leaves without it. Before reaching home she calls down some what, when she notes the loss of her bag. Returning to get it, she enters the door of the banker's office just as Evans is packing handsfull of money into a grip He is so engrossed in the work that he does not hear Anna, who tip-toes to the telephone in another part of the bank, calls up Robert and tells him that Evans is robbing the bank, and declares that she will in some way keep the cashier until help arrives.

Anna then walks into the office and confronts Evans. There is an exciting scene, ending in a terrible struggle, during which the cashier attempts to choke Anna to death. In the nick of time Robert arrives, accompanied by his father, brother, and an officer. Anna is saved, the funds are recovered, and Evans is arrested.

But the course of Robert's and Anna's love does not run smooth Banker Livingston insists that Robert shall marry Lucille Clark, a scheming and extravagant society girl. Robert, however, is firm in his intention of marrying Anna, and his father disowns him. He marries Anna and goes into business partnership with his father-in-law.

In the meantime Lucille succeeds in fascinating Edward. They are married. Mr. Livingston retires, and Edward succeeds him as president of the bank.

Lucille's extravagance finally ruins her husband, who commits suicide. Then Lucille turns her father-in-law out of house and home. He is penniless and starving.

While seeking work the old man becomes exhausted and sits down on the drive to rest. A little girl sees him, runs back home and brings him a pie baked for her. She is followed by her mother. There is a tense moment. The woman is Anna, Robert's wife, and she at once recognizes her husband's father. The old man is welcomed with open arms to his son's home, and the story ends in happiness brought out by a tender-hearted little girl and the true love of a good woman.

ALLIED ARMIES ON DEFENSIVE

Beaten Back by Tidal Wave of Germans Covered by Artillery.

CITY OF NAMUR FALLS

Zeppelin Dirigible Destroyed While Attempting to Drop Bombs Upon Royal Palace at Antwerp.

Paris, August 25.—Driven to their own first-line fortifications, the French and British armies are today strictly on the defensive. Against their lines the great tidal wave of Germans is beating with tremendous force covered by a tremendous artillery attack.

Fresh columns of German troops have been rushed through to the attack, while the regiments that carried the day yesterday have been withdrawn to rest, and to refill their shattered columns.

The German assault is admittedly as tremendous today as it was on Saturday, when the great battle began.

Namur has fallen. The great fortress, depended on to hold out for weeks, collapsed in three days The German line, outspread like a giant fan, has enveloped all of the Belgian-French and German-French frontiers. Against the gaps in the chain of fortresses thousands of Germans are being hurled.

The French and English, hidden in hastily constructed entrenchments, are striving with desperation to hold their lines. The war office says they will hold. But it made the same promise about Namur, and there is grave apprehension that at last the Germans are going to break through, and that a real invasion of France is threatened.

Antwerp, August 25.—Germany sacrificed one of her latest type Zeppelin dirigibles today in a vain attempt to destroy the royal palace with explosives.

Although the entire city was terror-stricken over the appearance of the monster in the air, the quick work of the forts at Hemixem, six miles away, in practically demolishing it, driving it to earth with the capture of the entire crew of twenty-five men, including the officers in command, quickly restored confidence.

Officials, in reassuring the inhabitants, declared it was unlikely there would be any further visitations here, as the force of Zeppelins available for war work has been materially reduced.

The Zeppelin made its appearance over the outskirts of the city early. Although flying high, notice of its coming was quickly given by the whirring of the propellers. As it swept toward the city like a huge bird of prey, the outlying forts began firing on it from the especially designed guns which can be trained directly into the air. It was impossible for the gunners to get the aim at the start and the dirigible swept directly across the city. The noise of the shooting had alarmed the townspeople and many of them rushed panic-stricken into the street, fearing a concerted attack by an air fleet was imminent. The Zeppelin circled the palace grounds dropping three bombs. They missed the palace, but demolished the two houses nearby, killing several persons.

The Zeppelin then headed higher in the air, and started back toward the German lines Passing over the forts it was subjected to a direct fire, but it was not until the guns in the towers of Hemixem got into action that a hit was scored. A shell from the fort penetrated the envelope of the dirigible, and it fluttered to earth.

Belgians soldiers were in waiting and as the crew of the airship tumbled out they were quickly captured.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

A telegram from Copenhagen reports from an authoriative source that Emperor Franz Josef's condition is much worse and that his death is a question of but a few hours.

George Kodant, a Japanese photographer, under arrest at Salinas, Cal., confessed to Sheriff Nesbit yesterday that he had murdered Helena Wood Smith ,a New York artist, who had been living in the colony of writers and painters at Carmel-by-the-Sea. He told conflicting stories of the murder, one version being that he killed Miss Smith in self-defense. The body of Miss Smith, a young artist teacher, was found Sunday buried in a sand dune near here.

In addition to the purser's safe, the recovery of which was reported last week, divers have succeeded in raising $24,000 in silver bullion, from the hull of sunken steamship Empress of Ireland in St. Lawrence. Word to this effect was yesterday received here by the officers of the salvage company doing the work. All the mail bags also have been found.

A flying leap from an automobile saved the lives of four men Saturday afternoon at Charmian, near Blue Ridge Summit, Pa., when their car stopped on a grade in front of a rapidly approaching freight train of the Western Maryland Railway The men escaped with slight injuries, but the automobile was demolished. The car was owned by Henry Sprenkle, of York, who was at the wheel at the time. The other three men were also residents of York. When the car started on the down grade near Monterery Mr. Sprenkle shut off his engine and coasted down the pike. In crossing tracks the machine struck a rut and stopped. The train was within a few feet of the stalled car when the men jumped.

The Senate late yesterday, without roll call, passed the so-called cotton warehouse license bill, proposed by Senator Hoke Smith originally to add value to cotton warehouse certificates by means of governmental inspecton and certfication of the grade of cotton stored in licensed warehouses. On the floor of the Senate the bill was amended to extend its provisions to tobacco, naval stores, canned salmon, grain and flaxseed. Amendments for extension to apples, peaches and oil were voted down A limitation was placed on the bill, so as to exempt from the operation of the grain provision to those States having a State grain inspection system.

STATE IS ALIVE TO SCHOOL NEEDS

Patrons of Public Schools Join in Fight Against Illiteracy.

STERNES PLEASED.

In Recent Trip Through Southside and Southwest Virginia He Saw Evidences of New Activity.

Richmond, August 26.—Superintendent of Public Instruction R. C. Stearnes, who has just returned from visits through southwest Virginia and Southside Virginia, yesterday afternoon declared that there has been awakened among the patrons of the public schools of Virginia a desire for better schools and school facilities.

While he was away he visited Pamplin, where the patrons had a meeting to determine on the future of the Pamplin school, and to devise ways and means for adding to the school facilities there. The Pamplin school was built in 1907 and is modern, but it is desired to increase its efficiency and to secure better and higher priced teachers. The patrons are enthusiastic, and there is every indication that they will greatly improve the school in the near future.

Superintendent Stearnes attended a patrons' picnic at Shepperd's in Buckingham county, Saturday. The patrons had met for the purpose of advancing educational facilities by establishing a consolidated school in that section. The people went on record as wanting a larger school, and some of them declared they were willing to send their children four miles to school were that necessary in order to secure a better school.

They also declared a willingness to pay a higher tax into the school fund. The members of the school board in that district present are willing to co-operate, and there is every likelihood that the consolidated school will replace several smaller schoolhouses in the Sheppard's section. The remarkable condition of the people of a district taking the lead in working for a consolidated school, and not leaving that work up to the school board holds in that section of Buckingham.

"Such activities as this, said Mr. Stearnes yesterday, "are to be found everywhere in the State that I have visited during the last four months. They indicate a healthy awakening of the people to the need for, better educational facilities. People in all parts of the State are calling upon the State department to send representatives to aid them in planning and in securing better schools. They are receiving the co-operation of the department.

'And after they have gained from the department representatives such information as they have desired, they go to work themselves and finish up the work the state department has begun."

DEPARTURE OF FIREMEN

Friends of Alexandrians Gather on Wharf This Morning to See them Off for Portsmouth.

The departure of the members of the Alexandria Fire Department to attend a meeting of the State Firemen's Convention is generally a gala occasion for those going, as well as the stay-at-homes. There are also pleasant scenes upon their return.

Many persons gathered on the Norfolk and Washington Steamboat Company's wharf, foot of Prince rsteet, early this morning to witness the departure of the Alexandrians and friends who accompanied them on their trip to Portsmouth, where the State convention will open tomorrow.

Sixty firemen representing the three companies of this city, who will attend the convention, were on hand. Apart from these, as is generally the case, members of their families and others interested in the convention were in the party.

The steamer Newport News reached this city from Washington shortly after 8 o'clock, and after the Alexandrians were taken aboard she proceeded on her way to Norfolk.

The firemen were attired in their new uniforms and made a good appearance. They will return home next Saturday morning.

MORE HOT WEATHER IN SIGHT

Fair And Warmer Conditions Latter Part of Week.

There was a marked change in the temperature last night, the oppressive conditions of the past week having passed away and been followed by rainy weather and a decided drop in the mercury. Meteorologically conditions early this morning were suggestive of October. The pleasant temperature, however, will not tarry long.

Fair skies for several days will follow showers early this week in New England, the Middle Atlantic States, the Lower Lake Region and the Ohio Valley, according to Weather Bureau officials.

"In the Upper Lake Region, the Upper Mississippi and the Missouri Valleys, and the Central Plain States, fair weather will prevail during the first half of the week, followed by showers sometime during the second half," the forecast continued. "These showers will probably set in over the extreme north about Tuesday, and will be followed by fair weather over that section during the second half of the week.

"In the South local thunderstorms will continue, but they will probably not be of much consequence for a few days. In the extreme West generally fair weather is indicated during the week.

"It will be warmer over the Western portion of the country early in the week, and temperatures will probably continue above the summer normal during much of the week. In the East higher temperatures Monday will be followed by some fall on Tuesday, but with another rise to above normal conditions indicated immediately after.

"In the South temperatures will be seasonable.

Skin Sufferers—Read!

We want all skin sufferers who have suffered for many years the tortures of disease and who have sought medical aid in vain, to read this.

We, as old established druggists of this community, wish to recommend to you a product that has given many relief and may mean the end of your agony. The product is a mild, simple wash, not a patent medicine concocted of various worthless drugs, but a scientific compound made of well known antiseptic ingredients. It is made in the D.D.D. laboratories of Chicago and is called the D.D.D. Prescription for Eczema.

This is a doctor's special prescription—one that has effected many wonderful cures.

The effect of D. D. D. is to soothe instantly, as soon as applied; then it penetrates the pores, destroys and throws off all disease germs and leaves the skin clean and healthy.

We are so confident of the marvelous power of D. D. D. that we have taken advantage of the manufacturers guarantee, to offer you a full-size bottle on trial. You are to judge the merits of the remedy in your own particular case. If it doesn't help you, it costs you nothing.

D. D. D. Soap is made of the same healing ingredients. Ask us about it.

AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE, PUBLISHED DAILY.

TYPHOID FEVER CAUSES ALARM.

About two weeks ago a representative of the Gazette called at the Alexandria Hospital for the purpose of obtaining data from which to write an account of an accident and was astonished when told that about a dozen cases of typhoid fever were in the hospital at that time. While there a city physician stated that about fifty cases existed in the city. When asked to what he attributed this serious order of thinsg, the physician averred they came from the water or milk which are being used in Alexandria.

Realizing the seriousness of causing alarm in the city and also that the month of August is generally regarded as the typhoid fever month, the Gazette made no reference to the information obtained, hoping that conditions would soon grow better. To our disappointment, however, the dreaded malady has spread, until instead of fifty, it is stated that at least sixty people suffering from typhoid are at the present time under the care of our city physicians.

There is every year about this time an average number of cases of typroid fever in our midst, and when the disease makes its appearance it naturally causes anxiety. It means long vigils on the part of relatives and friends, and in about ten per cent of the cases death results. In twenty-five of the cases out of every hundred, after long convaloscence, victims receive some physical weakness which often follows them throughout the remainder of their lives.

Shortly after the close of the Civil War Asiatic cholera prevailed in portions of our Southern country. Many died, including a number of Alexandrians, who had been tempted by flush times to go to Memphis. While this terrible scourge was prevailing in some places the managers of newspapers in some cities forbade reporters from making any allusion whatever to the serious conditions which existed, lest people should be frightened away or deterred from coming to a city infested with the deadly malady. The same tactics were observed in the latter part of the seventies in some municipalities in the South when yellow fever invaded that section.

The Gazette doubts the wisdom of such a course. The people of a city should know what is going on at all times and the newspaper is expected to state facts in a conservative manner in order that all should take heed and act accordingly. Hence the statement made in the Gazette concerning typhoid fever in our midst.

The health authorities tell us the trouble, seemingly, comes from our water supply. This is unfortunate, as the great bulk of the community have but one common source from which to draw, and while the corporation which supplies this essential may do everything possible to remove the cause, every housekeeper should vie in the good work. Filterers should be placed upon all spiggots and water boiled before it is used for drinking or culinary purposes.

The work of cleaning up premises should be started at once, and all cesspools or untidy toilet arrangements should receive the closest attention. The removal of weeds is also important, and a walk throughout certain portions of the city will convince any one that this necessary work has been sadly neglected by the authorities. In some places the rank growths are so thick that narrow paths are about all the passageway that exists on what should be sidewalks.

According to the law, all houses on streets or alleys where sewers have been laid, will be required to be connected with the same by the first day of next July. Some persons have not waited for the law to go into force, but have already tapped the sewers. Many, however, have failed to do so, and in nearly all sections of the city the air at this time of the year is filled with unhealthy and disgusting effluvia.

While war is devastating a large portion of the globe and great distress exists, the flames are not being blown this way at present and the people of Alexandria should do everything possible to stamp out disease, and be thankful we have nothing more serious with which to contend.

Count Johan von Bernstorff, German Ambassador to the United States, announced upon his arrival in New York yesterday from Rotterdam that his government had beben informed that Russian civil and military authorities had withdrawn from Poland and that the Poles had set up an independent government with Warsaw as its capital.

ONLY SURE CORN CURE EVER KNOWN.

"Gets-It" the New Way, 2 Drops do it.

To endure the pains and tortures caused by a little thing like a corn is ridiculous, simply because it is unnecessary. The new plan corn cure.

"GETS-IT" is the first one ever known to remove corns without fail, without pain and without trouble. This is why it is the biggest-selling corn cure in existence today. It is now used by millions, because it does away with sticky tape, with plasters and cotton rings that shift their position and press down onto the corn, with salves that "raw up" the toe, with "harnesses" that cause pressure and pain, with knives, razors and files, clawing and pulling at a corn.

"GETS-IT" is applied in two seconds. Two drops applied with the glass rod do the work. Pain goes, the corn shrivels, vanishes. Accept no substitute. Try it on any corn, wart, callus or bunion tonight.

"GETS-IT" is sold by druggists everywhere, 25c a bottle, or sent direct by E. Lawrence and Company, Chicago.

VOTERS OF VIRGINIA GIVE THEIR REASONS FOR OPPOSING STATE-WIDE PROHIBITION

MEN FROM EVERY BRANCH OF INDUSTRY AND EVERY WALK OF LIFE RALLY TO SUPPORT OF LOCAL OPTION SYSTEM NOW IN FORCE AS BEST DESIGNED TO FURTHER IDEAL OF TRUE TEMPERANCE AND PRESERVE RIGHT OF SELF-GOVERNMENT.

CITIZENS DECLARE STATE-WIDE LAW WILL INCREASE TAXES

Below are reproduced pertinent excepts from letters received from representative citizens bearing upon the issue which the State will face on September 22d. Communications of this character and voicing practically the same views have been pouring in upon the Virginia Association for Local Self-Government by the hundred.

The reasoning followed by almost every writer indicates a live appreciation of the real question at issue, namely, shall Virginia adopt State-Wide Prohibition or defeat it and retain the present local option system under which each self-governing community may enforce local prohibition if its majority desires it.

In this limited space it is possible to present only a very few of the thousands of expressions of this nature that are on file in this office. The following are typical:

LOCAL UNIT SHOULD GOVERN.

"I am a firm believer in the principles of Local Self-Government, and therefore share the views of President Wilson that every self-governing community which constitutes a local unit should have the right to control not only the matter of regulation or the witholding of license, but also the management of all matters relating to their own internal affairs."—WM. F. KELSER, attorney-at-law, Luray, Page County.

MENACE TO LIBERTY.

"Maine and Kansas present a fair example of what prohibition produces, as shown by the statistics of the Internal Revenue Department of the United States Government, from what can be seen the record of an unbroken failure to prohibit the illicit sale under the laws of those States. Prohibition is a menace to individual liberty and forces upon the majority in some localities something that they do not desire, and it is folly to try to coerce the personal habits of those who are temperate."—W. F. KOONTZ, Cashier Bank of Shenandoah, Shenandoah, Page County.

PROHIBITION CAUSES DISCORD.

"Why try a thing that has been tried many times in the past, and has proven a failure. Because it defeats local option, because it will bring great political confusion in the State, because it will make more disease and lunacy in the State."—M. S. GARRISON, physician, Front Royal, Warren County.

PRESENT LAW MOST EFFECTIVE.

"Virginia now has upon her statute books the best and most effective liquor law in the United States. Liquor is now sold only in a few large towns, and if those opposed wish to get rid of it they can do so under our present liquor laws.

"Where sold in Virginia it is done under a strict regulation; no side doors to saloons, no minors or known drunkards can get it, and hours for selling and closing are also regulated.

"Statewide will not prohibit. The ministry should live, teach and preach Christianity as recorded in the Bible, instead of devoting so much time in trying to legislate morality."—T. M. DOBYNS, merchant and farmer, Draper, Pulaski County.

FAILURE IN NORTH CAROLINA.

"I lived in North Carolina during the time of saloons, dispensaries and prohibition. I saw more disease, more drunknness and more large quantities of whiskey in circulation during the latter. I will vote for local option because in my association with people of every grade and class I have learned human nature enough to KNOW that prohibition is wrong from every argument. You can no more make people 'prohibit' than you can make them religious."—WM. ALGERON SHAW, physician and surgeon, Loretta, Essex County.

PROHIBITION PROVEN INEFFECTIVE.

"Prohibition does not prohibit. It will increase taxation and increase the drug habit. I believe it to be unconstitutional, too much meddling from outsiders has failed wherever tried.

"People have had something to drink for 6,000 years, and will have it until the end of time."—R. Y. ANDERSON, farmer, Rockfish, Nelson County.

AN INFRINGEMENT ON PERSONAL RIGHTS.

"I believe the issue to be a local one entirely. I believe State-wide Prohibition to be an infrigement on the rights of an American citizen guaranteed him by the United States Constitution, and I do not believe in the Church regulating the State.

"I do not believe in passing any law that will cause naturally law-abiding citizens to become law-breakers.

"I do not believe in giving business to another State at the expense of our own, and to show the sordid side of the issue as a benefit to morals generally.

"Why shouldn't the products of our breweries be harmful to those beyond our borders if harmful to the citizens of this State?"—C. V. FERGUSON, manager ore mines, Fayerdale, Patrick County.

FAVORS REASONABLE LAW.

"I am in favor of local option because it is reasonable and just, and because of the revenue we get from it. I am opposed to State-wide Prohibition because it is foolish and selfish, and because it will begin moonshiners' business right among us, with irresponsible people to run them. It would increase the liquor business and lessen the revenue."—J. D. ELDER, real estate and lumber business, Wattsboro, Lunenburg County.

Had Trouble with Her Stomach.

"About four years ago I began to have trouble with my stomach and found it necessary to eat sparingly," writes Mrs. Bernice Wyandt, Lima, Ohio. "There was a dull and heavy feeling in my stomach after eating that was most uncomfortable. I was also annoyed by frequent headaches. After taking a number of medicines without benefit I got a bottle of Chamberlain's Tablets and found they were just the thing. Two bottles of them rid me of this complaint." For sale by all dealers.

Recovered from Lung Trouble—Now Insured

Insurance companies will not accept any one affected with Lung Trouble. When you know a man who has been afflicted and who later has been insured, such action means that the policy-holder must be in a very good state of health. Cases have been reported when Lung Sufferers, after taking Eckman's Alterative, a remedy for Throat and Lung Troubles, have successfully passed the medical test of insurance companies. Read this case:—

237 Dean St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Gentlemen: About a year and a half ago I noticed that my health was rapidly failing. I was troubled with night sweats, a severe cough and was very weak; having, in fact, absolutely no ambition whatever. About this time I consulted a physician, who told me my lungs were affected. Not satisfied I went to another doctor, who, after examining me, said that I was in the first stages of Lung Trouble. At this point I started to take Eckman's Alterative. The night sweats stopped almost immediately, my cough became looser and gradually disappeared. My weight is now 142 pounds and my physician has pronounced me perfectly sound—which, together with the fact that I have just been accepted by two different insurance companies for insurance, makes me sure of my entire recovery by Eckman's Alterative."

(Affidavit) W. E. GEE.

Eckman's Alterative has been proven by many years' test to be most efficacious for severe Throat and Lung Affections, Bronchitis, Bronchial Asthma, Stubborn Colds and in upbuilding the system. Contains no narcotics, poisons or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet telling of recoveries, and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for evidence. For sale by all leading druggists

TRAIN KILLS MAN.

Nine-Year-Old Son Riding With Father Escapes Injury.

Roanoke, Va., August 26.—Joseph Oyler, white, forty-four years old, a team master, and two horses he was driving to a wagon were struck by Norfolk and Western passenger train No. 23, bound for Winston-Salem, on the Roanoke and Southern division of the road. The accident occurred at the Franklin road crossing. Oyler's body, mangled almost beyond recognition, was caught in the debris of the demolished wagon and hung in a heap against the boarding of a cattle-guard twenty-five from the crossing. One of the horses was cut literally in two, one-half of the animal being dragged 150 feet from where the wagon was struck. The other horse, not so badly mangld, was dragged seventy-five feet from the road and thrown off on a small embankment.

Oyler's nine-year-old son was riding with him on the wagon seat, and escaped injury. The boy was sent to his home near Red Hill, four miles south, on Franklin road. Oakey's ambulance was summoned, but when it arrived Oyler was dead.

DEATH OF BISHOP STRANGE.

Widely Known And Well Beloved Churchman Closes His Career After Long Illness.

Richmond, August 26.—Bishop Robert Strange, of the Episcopal Diocese of Eastern North Carolina, former rector of St. Paul's Church, and widely known in Richmond, died Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock at his home in Wilmington, N. C. The cause of death was Bright's disease, which first made its appearance in pronounced form a little over a year ago, when Bishop Strange was suddenly stricken while attending the General Episcopal Conference in New York City.

MAY CLAIM RIGHT.

Fear Austria and Germany Will Assert "Spanish Veto" Against Ferrata.

Rome, August 25.—Despite strict regulations against the exercise of the "Spanish veto," Germany and Austria are said to have already let it be known that the election of Cardinal Ferrata as successor to Pope Pius X. would be objectionable to those two nations.

No cardinal may introduce the veto in the conclave upon pain of excommunication, but in view of the European war and the generally tangled political condition, there is much speculation as to whether nations affected may not seek to exercise it in some other way.

There is a strong movement afoot among members of the Sacred College to appeal to the warring powers to declare an armistice during the conclave at which the new Pope will be elected.

London, August 25—Ten German soldiers, who wantonly shot the wife of a Belgian burgomaster, have been executed at Liege, according to an Amsterdam dispatch to the London Daily Chronicle.

Favorite Remedy for Diarrhoea.
"About three years ago I had a serious attack of summer complaint. The doctor's medicine failed to benefit me so I sent for a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy upon the recommendation of one of my neighbors. One dose of it did me more good than all the other medicine I had used. I improved rapidly and in a short time I was well," writes Mrs. Mary Higgins, Peru, Ind. For sale by all dealers.
